Get Ready to Roll Up Your Sleeves

Every year, creating the TEEG Annual Report is a new chance to tell our story. The challenge is to explain what we do clearly, concisely and creatively in order for people to see the value that our agency provides and the impact that we have in the communities we serve.

The 2019 Annual Report, Nurturing a Caring Community, is a how-to manual of the work TEEG does. Once known as the Thompson Ecumenical Empowerment Group originally founded to serve residents of Thompson, we have expanded to serve our neighbors in many communities in surrounding towns. Now known as TEEG, we touch more lives in more ways than many people realize. As a grassroots community service agency serving the northeast corner of Connecticut, we work quietly behind the scenes to give individuals and families the support they need to live independently.

In the pages that follow, you will be guided with illustrations and helpful hints to understand how we carefully apply the resources provided by our community, our grantors, and our funders to offer compassionate care for others. Our agency is proud to offer a wide variety of services to people of every age to help them find financial stability as well as many programs that are open to all regardless of economic need.

We hope that our step-by-step manual inspires you to become a TEEG supporter. Support can mean a monetary donation, a donation of goods or services, or your valuable time as a volunteer.

We welcome you to get to know us better, to lend a hand, or to reach out if you need one. TEEG is here, as we have been for 32 years, ready and willing to work to make our corner of Connecticut a better place to live for every resident, every day.

Yours in Community,

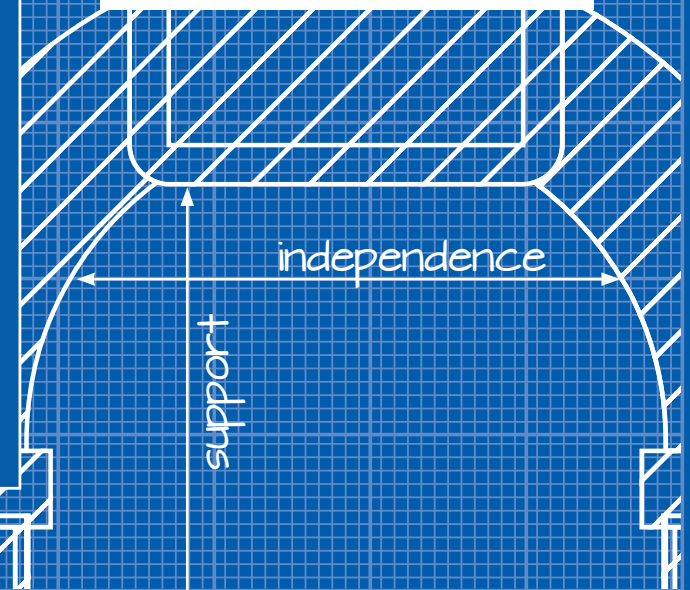

Anne Miller

The TEEG Mission

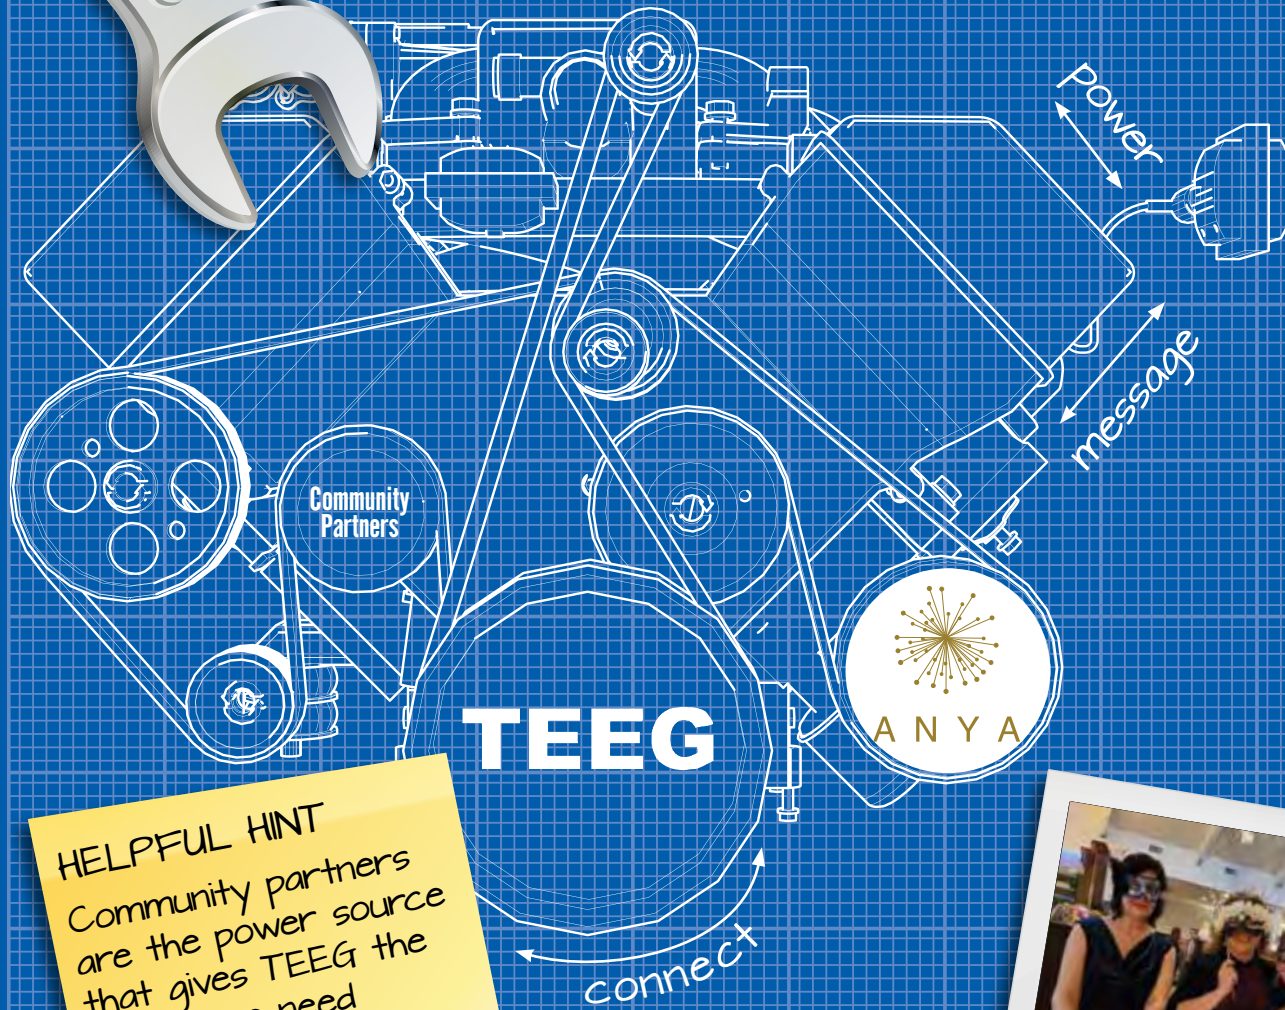

- ⊗ Empowering individuals to live independently
- ⊗ Strengthening families to live respectfully
- ⊗ Engaging the community to work collaboratively
- ⊗ Connecting resources to promote a better future for all

To achieve our mission with limited resources, we have learned to use tools that money can't buy.

- ⊗ A listening ear to hear what people truly need.
- ⊗ A compassionate heart to achieve an understanding of life's challenges and obstacles.
- ⊗ A detective's passion to track down resources and find solutions.

HOW TO CARE FOR A

HELPFUL HINT
Community partners are the power source that gives TEEG the energy we need to reach and serve northeast Connecticut.

Gather Your Tools

Step 1. Community Partners

TEEG's tools are many, but we couldn't do it without our community partners. They provide essential financial support, volunteer skills, and in-kind donations through food, holiday and Back to School drives. Even more importantly, they give us the ability to spread our message.

One example is Anya. When this new restaurant opened its doors, they wanted to make a positive impact on the local community. They chose to run their second-quarter "Anya Cares" campaign to support TEEG with donations and to provide food for our homeless community in January.

Together with schools, churches and other local organizations, they helped us to connect the pieces to best help this complex and largely underserved issue.

COMMUNITY

Step 2. Volunteers

Anne Richards is a familiar face to the TEEG community. She volunteers every week to cover our front desk. With her warm, welcoming smile, she takes the time to get to know our neighbors, respond to their needs, and connect them to the staff who can best help them with the issue at hand.

Volunteers like Anne allow our small staff the ability to step away from the desk to support other programs. She is just one example of the many, many hands that help us do what we do. We are grateful to have regular, weekly volunteers in our food pantry and garden, who know the work well and provide a strong foundation of support for our staff who work in those areas.

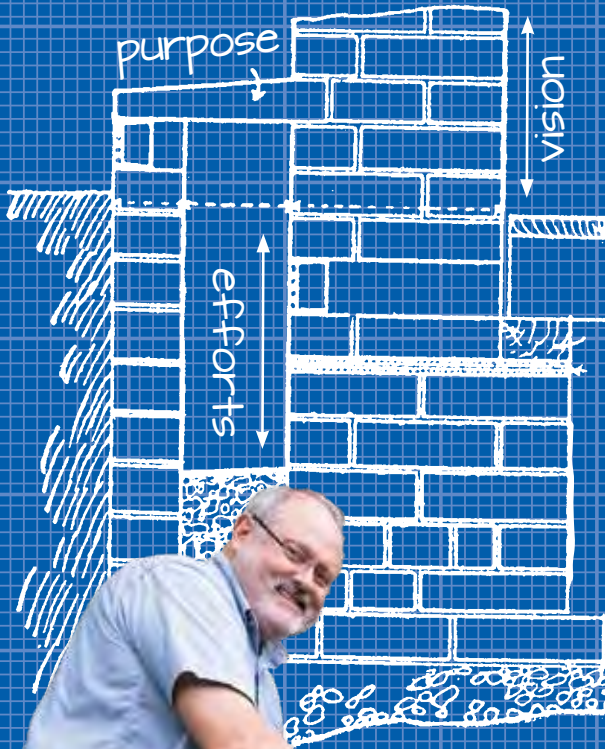

We also are fortunate to have countless one-time volunteers who help do what needs to be done; working in the yard, painting our building, or unloading donation deliveries. Our community garden is staffed entirely by volunteers. One gentleman who chooses to remain anonymous does all of our building maintenance.

HELPFUL HINT
TEEG volunteers are the fasteners and glue that hold our programs together.

HOW TO RUN A COMM

Thoughts from our Board President, Rene Comtois

Assemble the Best Team

Step 1. Build on a Strong Foundation

The cornerstone of TEEG was laid many years ago by a dedicated core group of individuals, spiritual and business leaders. They recognized certain unmet needs within our northeastern Connecticut community. With a common purpose, they joined together and drew up the blueprints for a community service agency that could permanently address these needs. Through their combined vision and efforts, they created a sound and enduring structure called the Thompson Ecumenical Empowerment Group, now known as TEEG.

Step 2. Be Flexible to Evolve and Grow

The same sense of dedication that created TEEG has allowed the staff, volunteers and board members to build upon our strong foundation for over 32 years. As we head into the future, our challenge is to continually revise and reconstruct our agency to meet local community needs in an ever-changing world.

Our team is ready to take on this task acting as the hammers and saws in the building process. It is only through the generosity of individuals and organizations within our community that we are able to stay supplied with the building materials that we need to continue to renovate and expand the TEEG structure.

HELPFUL HINT
Working collaboratively and continually updating processes with forward-thinking is the key to sustainability.

HOW TO STRENGTHEN

Build Strong Resilient Youth

Step 1. Inventory Connections

Connections begin in the community. Youth are referred to TEEG's youth services through school systems, the Department of Children and Families, care providers, parents, and law enforcement.

Step 2. Find a Match

Using our intake tools, we meet with the youth in order to determine what program might best serve them. From a camp experience to restorative justice work, to mentoring, our programs serve youth in a variety of ways. Once the match is made, we are on our way.

Step 3. Weave a Strong Bond

Much like the cloth once created by the textile mills in the towns that we serve, we connect youth to their own neighborhoods. This allows them to become the strong and powerful threads that will sustain and enhance those communities in the future.

FAMILIES

Meet the Family Need

Step 1. Take an Assessment

TEEG has long recognized that moving a family towards independence requires empowering the family members with the skills and resources to get there. No problem is as simple as “I am hungry” or “I am homeless.” Our Client Care Coordinators take the time to ask the right questions, listen to the answers carefully, and connect our neighbors to the resources that will empower them.

Step 2. Find Connections

It takes an informed and creative approach to address the core cause of the issue. Taking TEEG resources such as using the food pantry to stretch a budget, energy assistance, encouragement and guidance, we create a scaffold around the individual or family to begin the work. Likewise, we reach out to connect people to other agencies and resources in the community as needed, to create a sustained and multifaceted solution.

Step 3. Empower Independence

Regular check-ins, continued education, and good old-fashioned conversation help ensure success. Because part of TEEG’s mission is to empower people to live independently we must now test the solution by stepping back but not stepping away.

Even the best how-to guide cannot help build a quality project without a full parts list. We are grateful to the following donors and volunteers for supplying us with the pieces we need to complete our work.

The following lists recognize donors who have made financial contributions to TEEG apart from purchases made at our Have a Heart auction. (NOTE: While we greatly appreciate the generosity of the community at our annual fundraising event, the purchase of goods and services is not recognized by general accounting practices as a donation.)
