

The Circle of Life

TEEG 2021 ANNUAL REPORT

Once More Around the Sun

We have done it again! Another year of service to our community is in the books. Three hundred sixty-five days filled with new challenges, joy and sadness, and the ever-present kindness of friends and strangers alike. While the pandemic disrupted lives and routines, TEEG persevered in delivering our mission with dedication and compassion.

Reflecting on the past year, we found comfort and hope in the familiar rhythm of the seasons. The circle of life is a journey. In this year's report, we highlight a few of our many programs and the ways in which they meet the needs of families and individuals at every stage of life.

You can count on TEEG to be there for our community and, in turn, the community is there for TEEG. We are forever grateful to our many friends who came together in circling wagons of support over the last year. Volunteers cheerfully worked in the cold, rain, and heat to provide meals in our parking lot, food at our drive-throughs, and pack boxes to fit individual requests. They provided tutoring for students struggling with remote learning and helped set up an outdoor Christmas distribution on the coldest day of the year.

TEEG donors sent their stimulus checks. They called to ask what we needed most and opened their hearts to send generous donations. By holding food drives and planting gardens, they ensured that we always had the resources we needed.

Thank you for being partners in our journey. As we once again begin a new circle around the sun, we thank you for all you do to help us achieve our vision of a community that aspires to care for and support one another. We couldn't do what we do without you!

Anne Miller
Executive Director

You can count on TEEG to be there for our community and, in turn, the community is there for TEEG.

Grab a Painted Pony

No one has the choice of where, when, or under what circumstances they are to step aboard the great carousel of life. It simply begins by chance for each of us, with varying advantages and disadvantages from the start. It's the journey along the way that is at the heart of our quality of life, both individually and corporately, and that's where you'll find TEEG.

Through the years, TEEG has become proficient at quickly evolving and adapting to the ever-changing needs of the communities and individuals that we have the privilege to serve. This skill has never been needed more so than in the past year. Through technology, imagination, experience, and good old-fashioned hard work by a fantastic staff headed by Executive Director Anne Miller, TEEG continually reinvents itself and its programs to meet the needs of the times.

Yet, as talented as the TEEG folks are in their dedication to service, no amount of planning and preparation could have brought these programs about during the pandemic without the extraordinary abundance of resources provided by the incredibly generous people and businesses throughout northeastern Connecticut.

We are truly thankful and humbled for the tremendous outpouring we have received in these trying times.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of TEEG, I wish to thank the leadership and staff at TEEG and especially all of our wonderful volunteers for making our community agency the success it is. Without the help of so many of you who give your time and talents, we couldn't get it all done.

And so it is with a renewed sense of community validation, determination, and generous help from our friends that TEEG will continue in our commitment to stay beside each and every person we serve at whatever point they need us to enhance and empower their journey in life.

President, Board of Directors

We are truly thankful and humbled for the tremendous outpouring we have received in these trying times.

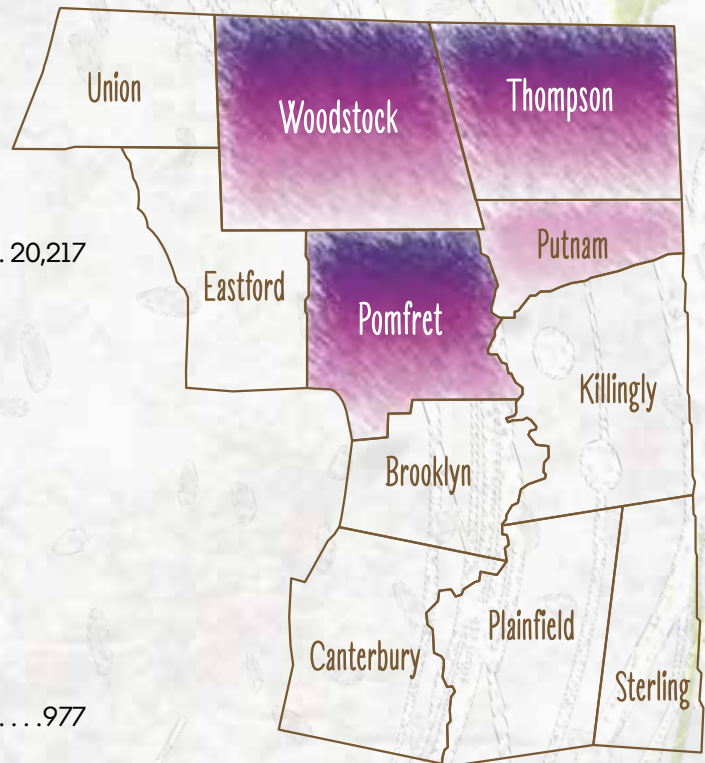

Making a world of difference...

When life happens...

American scholar Charles Fort wrote,
"In measuring a circle, one begins anywhere."

In the same way, TEEG programs help our neighbors no matter where they are in their journeys. There is always an opportunity to help, and when we pause to listen, we find the best solutions together.

From Birth to Pre-School

Welcoming the youngest members of our community, TEEG's Hand in Hand program provides mentors for parents and children. TEEG mentors work to increase children's developmental growth by increasing parent's natural supports and exposure to community resources. Mentorship aims to promote self-confidence through self-advocacy and the exploration of new social environments and educational experiences.

As we moved from virtual to live mentoring this year, we found new ways to provide the connection and information families need. Front door visits, outside activities, and a Zoom playgroup were just a few ways we stayed connected and marked milestones in families' lives. We are grateful to have this program available to our young families and look forward to growing together in the future!

...TEEG is here

Growing Up With TEEG

TEEG was named as a Youth Service Bureau (YSB) in 2019 for Pomfret, Putnam, Thompson, and Woodstock. Our coordinated approach to provide a comprehensive service offers attendance mentoring, juvenile justice diversion, preventative programs, bridge counseling, advocacy, family support, intensive adolescent mentoring, and much more.

Throughout the pandemic, Attendance Mentor, Autumn Lewis, worked to help students and families in Thompson organize and focus on arriving at school fully prepared and ready to learn. Relaxation techniques and home visits helped students regain confidence and find success. As students return to school this year, we are exploring ways to offer this program to all four of our YSB towns.

Two additional YSB programs, our Bookmobile and Support Services, connect youth and their families to resources, activities, and information to help them achieve success wherever they are.

Strengthening Family Ties

TEEG's Focus on Family programs provide opportunities for family growth and bonding through social experiences. We engage expert resources to deliver entertaining and educational classes, including budgeting, cooking, preserving food, gardening, anger management, crafts, hoarding, and more. These programs are open to the entire community, free of charge. Babysitting and meals are provided, encouraging families to attend together.

Santa even led our Zoom session to encourage children to share their wish lists. Via satellite from the North Pole, he read "The Polar Express" and listened with a twinkle in his eyes while families enjoyed hot cocoa kits they picked up before the event.

Special Moments

TEEG's holiday programs (Halloween Costume Distribution, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter) and our Back-to-School program provide the elements that make each event special. While the joy of giving a bountiful holiday or all the best supplies for a successful school year is heartwarming and helpful, we also look to these programs to engage families and encourage them to explore all the other ways TEEG can help. Providing these supports helps families stay on budget throughout the year.

As gifts from the community filled our building at Christmas time, we knew that we had to find a safe way to distribute them and still allow families to select the items that best suited their children. The answer was a parking lot "Winter Wonderland" where volunteer groups set up themed "floats" to display and distribute the many gifts that were provided by our community. The weather was cold, but hearts were warm.

Feeding the Community

Food security has long been a central part of TEEG's programs. It helps to provide a variety of fresh and shelf-stable foods to satisfy all dietary needs. The food provided helps to balance household budgets, and our "client choice" model allows visitors to choose the foods they want. This year, we rebranded and remodeled our pantries to create the feel of a local store. We now refer to all three as "Community Markets."

While parking lot distributions became our new norm last year, it gave us a chance to assess our space and perform some needed upgrades. When longtime volunteer Garry Brown retired from the Pomfret Community Market, TEEG was asked to step in to help. In Woodstock, our TEEG Mobile Market began regular stops at the town hall that will continue even as the pandemic wanes. And in all three primary service towns, TEEG "Community Markets" use a new "SWAP" (Supporting Wellness at Pantries) system that categorizes foods as green (choose often), yellow (choose sometimes), and red (choose rarely). Foods are assessed according to their salt, fat, and sugar content. Information on all TEEG programs is provided to every visitor to help them find balance and success.

Caring for Seniors

TEEG offers a variety of programs to support our seniors and help them live well and independently. We listen to needs, look for enrichment opportunities and help support active lifestyles. Benefits Counseling helps keep seniors up to date on state and federal programs to help balance limited budgets.

Our Pomfret Senior Center (funded by the town of Pomfret and open to ALL area seniors) remained open as an essential service. When we couldn't be inside together, we held parking lot meal distributions and celebrations, outdoor yoga, craft kits, and kept our walking club going. All the while, we continued to call, check-in, and visit with our seniors who were unable to come to us.

We also took advantage of the downtime to make space improvements to the lower level of the building to safely welcome guests back with social distancing. We indeed are fortunate to learn and grow with our seniors in such a welcoming place.

Giving & Receiving is a Full Circle

Our Little Free Library, built for us by Eagle Scout Shane Yurkevicius, is a shining example of the circle of giving. The kiosk is based on trust and operates on the principle of the community filling a need. Visitors are free to take a book or leave one. It is a beautiful balance, much like the community response to the needs of our neighbors.

Sustained giving by individuals, businesses, foundations, municipalities, and grantors are essential components of the balance required to keep our agency fiscally strong and ready to lend a hand.

Seasons of Giving

We are deeply grateful for the level of giving that we witness during the holiday season. It is a yearly reminder of the kind and caring nature of our corner of Connecticut. Our "Angel" donors also understand that need knows no season. The generosity received throughout the year is a testament to our donors' trust in us to care for the community.

We are grateful to the following donors for contributing to and supporting our work over the past year. The following lists recognize donors who have made financial contributions to TEEG. We have made every attempt to acknowledge everyone while respecting the anonymity of those who have asked, and sincerely hope we have not left anyone out.
